

“Spudescapades” number 21

February/March 2025

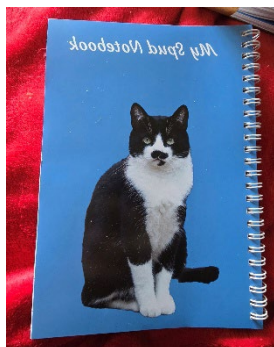

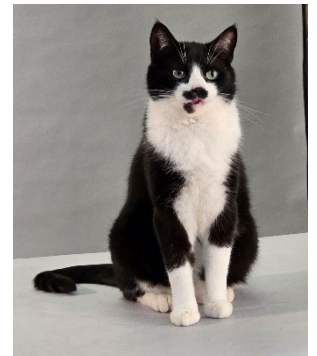

Number 21, I have come of age! Or my Spudescapades have anyway.

Meet and greets. As always I loved my meet and greet at your Spring fair and we did well on the stall too. Mummy then took me “on exhibition” to the Lancashire Cat Club show on 8th March. This is when you go to a show but just to show off and not to compete. I couldn’t compete as mummy was judging so it wouldn’t have been fair, would it, as I’d have won EVERYTHING! It was fab, I was in this posh pen with red drapes and 2 special rosettes, one that mummy got me with my name on it, and I got LOTS of attention and I just loved it all. Near the end mummy took me for a walk all around the edge of the hall too, that was great, even if mummy wasn’t sure we should be doing that at a cat show! My next appearance is at the Happy Cats Fair in Accrington on 5th April.

Modelling- Quite a bit of news on this front. The filming I did last year for a tv series is coming out! It is called This City Is Ours and will be on BBC1 at 9pm on Sunday 23rd March then every Sunday for 8 episodes. The whole series will be on BBC iplayer and I think I may be in episodes 4 and 5! I was understudy for Sox at a shoot in January but have since done shoots for Scruffs cat beds and dishes plus 2 for American cat food and treats, so I have been a very busy boy.

Fundraising - Our 2025 fundraising is now underway and we are already at almost £130 per charity so far. My book is still available and we have new notebooks and pens etc, if you want anything, or would like the catalogue, just message me via my Facebook or Instagram pages or email me at spudthecatwithatash@outlook.com. The BIG news is that we are exploring the possibility of a Spud soft toy so watch this space!!!!
